Self-promotion

An increasingly important topic in our daily lives.
At least that's what is conveyed on social media channels like YouTube and Instagram.

It's a topic that has to be taken seriously because it can bring along fame and wealth. One needs to be properly coached to cope with it.

And, let's be honest, fame and wealth are the only truly important things in life! Everything else isn't as fulfilling.

However, what it triggers is a sense of scarcity. Something is always missing - one is never enough.

What's next is a product:

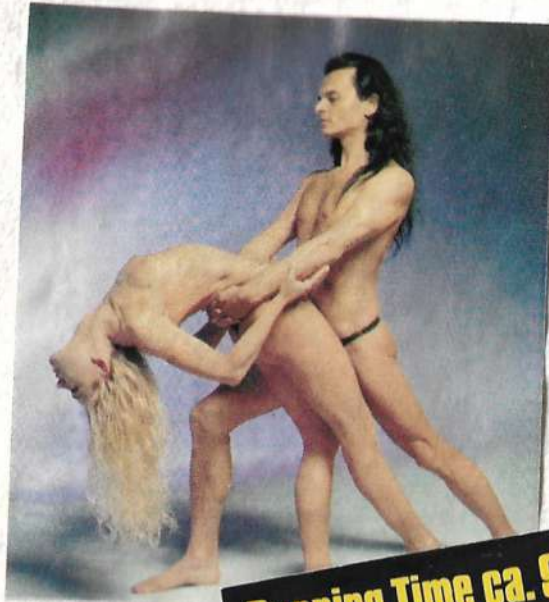

There is an idea of ME, I,
some kind of abstraction but there is no real ME.
